The Charisma University is a place dedicated to training individuals with charisma to become the best versions of themselves. You have charisma. Everyone does, it's just some people use theirs more often than others. Here you can find out how to develop your personality and communication skills for success in relationships, work, and life in general through courses on communication skills, confidence, relationships and personal development! We provide you academic course materials backed up by real-world experience gathered from decades of social psychology research at the top institutions like Harvard Medical School (Boston), Columbia Business School (NYC), Union College (Schenectady) etc. You will benefit from the experience gained by our expert researchers at Charisma University. Charisma University was founded by Dr. Adriano Pessoa, a psychologist with over 30 years' experience in the field of social psychology. He is also an expert speaker on charisma, business and relationships. Adri nio Pessoa is the author of several books on social psychology, including "Be Your Own Boss" (Bloomsbury Publishing) "Happiness Is Sex" (Penguin Press), "The Power of Charisma" (Harbour Press) and "The Power of Charisma" (Hay House). Charisma University is a global institution, with a team of instructors and researchers in the US, UK, New Zealand, Canada and Brazil. Most of our courses have been created by our team of researchers and instructors from these places. We have professors from Harvard Medical School (Boston), Columbia Business School (NYC), Union College (Schenectady) etc., who are experts in their fields. Our courses cover all areas related to charisma: Charisma University is the only institution that offers Charisma courses in social psychology that are verified by an independent academic board. This means the course materials and the instructor's experience in this field has been scrutinized and approved by an independent board of board certified social psychologists. Our courses are aimed at helping you develop your self-esteem and self-confidence, improve the quality of your relationships, and help you develop your professional career. We offer a full range of courses in charisma: from building your confidence, developing your character and enhancing the quality of your relationships (including romantic and business), to developing better communication skills and understanding how to present yourself effectively in any situation. Our courses include: Social psychology is the scientific study of how we think about other people. The science investigates how we think about them, what we know about them, what we feel for (and with) them, why such feelings change over time, and the social consequences of these cognitive processes. It is a very broad field, which includes studies of how people form impressions of others, the accuracy of these impressions, how we know what others are feeling, social cognition (the role of memory in social thinking), and stereotyping. Below are the topics covered in the Charisma University courses Developing your self-esteem and self-confidence The foundation to effective charisma is not what you do or say; it's whether you can truly be yourself. By learning to value yourself and your opinions above all else, you will be able to express your confidence with ease. Understanding that it is okay not to be perfect or try to please everyone - this is what builds confidence.
